Rev. M. Carron, Detroit U Prexy Beginning July 1

DETROIT (AP) — The University of Detroit has announced the Rev. Malcolm Carron, academic vice president, will take over as president of the school July 1.

He will replace the Very Rev. Laurence V. Britt, who will be completing six years as president, the traditional tenure for supervisory positions in the Jesuit order.

The university is a Jesuit school. Father Britt did not ask for reappointment.

A native of Detroit, Father Carron graduated from U-D in 1935 and entered the order in 1939. He earned his master's degree from Loyola University, Chicago, and his doctorate from the University of Michigan.

He taught at St. Ignatius High School in Cleveland before joining the U-D faculty in 1956.

He was named dean of freshmen in the arts and sciences in 1957 and dean of the college in 1963.

The change was announced at a press conference. Normally such changes are announced by the Jesuit provincial with the approval of the order's father general in Rome.

Father Britt, 54, said he asked the school's trustees several months ago to relieve him. He said both the provincial and the father general had approved the change.

"We wanted to do it this way," because it is more in line with what other universities do," Father Britt said. "They don't have presidents appointed by outsiders."

Split Season Opener Is Out

LANSING (AP) — Hunters can expect Michigan to go back to the traditional Nov. 15-30 deer shooting season this year.

A number of hunters grumbled against the split opener last year—with deer legal targets a week earlier in the Upper Peninsula than in the Lower Peninsula.

A return to the uniform opener is part of the omnibus deer bill introduced in the Senate.

Some sections of the deer bill may run into opposition, particularly the proposed license increase from $5 to $7.50 and the idea of a two-year moratorium on shooting antlerless deer.

Sentiment in the Legislature seems to favor the uniform Nov. 15 opener, however.

Some senators said their constituents wanted to know what the Legislature was going to do on setting season dates. Lawmakers haven't acted on the bill as yet.

Unlike other sections of the deer bill, the change back to the traditional dates has the backing of the Conservation Department.

The department said opinion surveys indicate the majority of hunters favor the uniform Nov. 15-30 season.

There is some opposition from those who think the opener should be on a Saturday every year.

An argument against this, the department said, is that the uniform opener would reduce crushes of hunters on opening day since weekend openings would be the exception rather than the rule.

Nov. 15-30, the department said is a biologically satisfactory compromise among the many factors involved in setting opening dates.

Some dissatisfaction can be expected with the Nov. 15-30 hunting dates in the Upper Peninsula from those who feel the early opener there drew more hunters to benefit the tourist business.

Traffic on the Mackinac Bridge also can be expected to drop somewhat on opening day without the early season to attract hunters.

Even most of those legislators who backed the split season last year admit it was a mistake. So hunters who want to plan early on when they will take time off from work to go after a deer can figure on the traditional Nov. 15 opener.

Court Upholds Obscenity Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has ruled that publications designed entirely to appeal to "prurient interests" are not protected by the constitutional guarantee of freedom of expression.

With this ruling, delivered by Justice William J. Brennan, the court upheld a five-year prison term for Eros magazine publisher Ralph Ginzburg under a federal obscenity law.

Brennan said Ginzburg's conviction for mailing Eros and two other publications stand under the court's 9-year-old obscenity standard, known as the Roth ruling.

Brennan wrote the high tribunal's main opinion in the Roth case in 1957. He said at that time that the test for obscenity was "whether to the average person, applying contemporary community standards, the dominant theme of the material taken as a whole appeals to prurient interests."

In another action today, the Supreme Court upheld the conviction of Edward Mishkin of New York, under the state's obscenity statute. But it ruled that the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court had erred in banning the 18th century story of a London prostitute known as "Fanny Hill."

Nuclear Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission announced its ninth weapons-related nuclear test this year had been conducted at the Nevada test site. It was of low, intermediate yield, equal to between 20,000 and 200,000 tons of TNT, the AEC said.

Ann Arbor In Atom Smasher Site Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government narrowed to six locations today its search for a site for a $375-million atom-smasher, the world's largest.

The National Academy of Sciences, after apprisal of 85 proposed sites, recommended further study of sites at:

Ann Arbor, Mich.; Brookhaven National Laboratory, N.Y.; Madison, Wis.; the Sierra foothills near Sacramento, Calif.; South Barrington or Weston, near Chicago, and Denver, Colo.

As to the first five sites, the selection committee said they all have "either the nucleus of a strong accelerator design group or one of the nation's outstanding universities nearby."

Denver, the report said, "has neither the university strength nearby nor the existing design group that is considered desirable." But it said the combined advantages of geology, accessibility, good climate and an area readily available large enough to accommodate any conceivable experiment or expansion are such as to make the Denver site merit serious consideration.

The recommendation is not binding on either the Atomic Energy Commission, which would operate the 200-billion-electron-volt particle accelerator, or Congress, which has not yet authorized the new atomic research laboratory.

The reduced list goes to the Atomic Energy Commission for the final site selection.

At one time more than 200 applicants were in the running.

In discussing each of the sites recommended today, the academy's report made these points:

Ann Arbor — A chief attraction is its proximity to the University of Michigan, a major school with strength in the physical, engineering and mathematical sciences. The Detroit Metropolitan Airport, about 35 minutes driving time away, has frequent direct flights to other major metropolitan centers. Large lakes in the vicinity moderate the climate.

Brookhaven — The shape of the 6,000-acre site is satisfactory. The laboratory already existing is an AEC facility at which an extensive program in high-energy physics now is being carried out. It is accessible to

Anglican Leader Cheered In Rome

ROME (AP) — The Anglican Archbishop of Canterbury arrived to a cheering welcome today for historic Christian unity talks with Pope Paul VI. But two Protestant clergymen who called him "traitor" and came along on the same plane from London were refused entry to Italy.

Dissention over the visit of Dr. Michael Ramsey marked the departure from London. The two clergymen, two other militant anti-Catholic ministers and a city councilman from Belfast had flung the word at the archbishop as they boarded his plane.

At the Rome airport police stopped the Rev. John Wylie, a Free Presbyterian minister from Northern Ireland, and the Rev. Ian Paisley, moderator of the Free Presbyterian Church of Northern Ireland.

Frontier police said there were written instructions from the Italian interior minister to keep them out of the country, and that they would have to go back.

On the first official visit of a head of the Anglican Church to the Vatican since the schism of 1534, Dr. Ramsey and the Pope will discuss Christian unity in a meeting Wednesday at the Vatican. The next day they will pray together and exchange an embrace of peace.

Five militant anti-Catholics shouted "you traitor" as the archbishop prepared to leave for Rome from the London airport.

The demonstrators—four clergymen and a Belfast city councilor—boarded the plane with the archbishop to carry their protest to Rome. They had led a demonstration against the visit outside the archbishop's Lambeth Palace last Friday.

Demonstrators Shout

The five demonstrators began shouting as the archbishop stood on the front steps to the plane waving to a group of newsmen. Police escorted them quickly to the back steps of the plane and after questioning them for awhile allowed them to board it. They kept shouting.

Four were ministers representing the British Council of the International Council of Christian Churches, a mainly fundamentalist body with headquarters in Evanston, Ill.

The five were the Rev. Ian Paisley, moderator of the Free Presbyterian Church of Northern Ireland, who picketed the Vatican at the opening of the Ecumenical Council; the Rev. John Wylie, another Free Presbyterian minister; the Rev. Jack Glass, a Baptist from Glasgow, the Rev. Robert Hood, an Anglican vicar in North London, and James McCarroll of the Belfast City Council.

Dr. Ramsey has said he does not expect Christian unity in his lifetime. Catholic leaders have said much the same.

Seek Understanding

The Vatican hopes that the visit will result in closer mutual understanding between the two churches, friendliness, clarification of practical ways in which ties can be improved and differences lessened, and a signal to Roman Catholics and Anglicans everywhere to stress what they have in common rather than what divides them.

Dr. Ramsey will see the Pope in surroundings rich in pageantry but, conforming to the modern ecumenical mood, with fanfare reduced and protocol kept simple.

There will be no papal throne when the primate of the 45-million-member World Anglican Communion and the spiritual leader of 584 million Roman Catholics sit down together Wednesday in the Sistine Chapel.

Dr. Ramsey's visit will mark the third time in nearly 600 years that a successor of St. Augustine in the See of Canterbury has met a Pope.

Arundel, archbishop of Canterbury who opposed King Richard II in 1397, called on Pope Boniface IX after being banished from England. The next time was in December 1960 when Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, who preceded the present archbishop, paid a brief courtesy call on Pope John XXIII.

Cong Airport Raid Damages Yankee Planes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. jet pilots reported today they struck heavy blows at trucking and shipping in North Viet Nam, blasting more than half of a 50-vehicle convoy in a mountain pass and sinking or damaging five gunboats.

Marine spokesmen reported that the Leathernecks killed at least 205 Communists in expanding ground operations in South Viet Nam's northern provinces. But 10 Leathernecks were killed in the crash of a Marine helicopter, and an A4 Skyhawk crashed on a bombing run in support of the Marines. The pilot was rescued.

As the weather cleared over North Viet Nam, U.S. spokesmen said they were highly pleased with the results of Monday's raids by Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers. However, the successes cost the Air Force a needle-nosed RF101 Voodoo reconnaissance jet which was shot down northeast of Vinh. The pilot was listed as missing.

The Viet Cong gave another demonstration of their guerrilla tactics, hitting the airport at Dalat before dawn and damaging a number of planes. Two platoons of about 50 Reds penetrated the airport grounds after a mortar barrage.

Students Demonstrate

On the political front, Buddhist students in Da Nang and Hue demonstrated peacefully against the government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. In Saigon, Thich Tam Chau, a leader of the Buddhist political movement, personally halted a student demonstration although the National Buddhist Institute he heads issued a communique making clear it is unhappy with Ky.

A flight of Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs spotted the truck convoy parked near the Mugia Pass 60 miles south of Vinh in the North Vietnamese panhandle. Flying through heavy flak, the jet pilots said they destroyed or damaged 27 trucks in three passes and knocked out 14 antiaircraft guns.

Navy pilots from the carriers Ranger and Enterprise hit 59 targets and reported they destroyed or damaged five gunboats 46 miles north of Dong Hoi, three junks 37 miles south of Vinh and two bridges and a ferry crossing astride a route linking with the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

In the South, Navy and Air Force planes pounded what was described by intelligence sources as a Viet Cong rest area 75 miles northeast of Saigon. Air spotters said 60 Viet Cong were killed and an automatic-weapons site, a small bridge and a number of buildings were destroyed.

Captive Cites Power

A wounded captive who identified himself as a North Vietnamese lieutenant told American newsmen in Saigon: "Your fire power is too big for us."

The prisoner, Dao Van Giong, 39, said he decided to surrender and was picked up by an American helicopter which brought him to a medical aid station during the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division's recent campaign around Bong Son.

He said the North Vietnamese troops and Viet Cong "are fighting fiercely but there is too much American power. We cannot match it. The raids in the North are killing the railroads and other communications."

A Marine spokesman said 117 Viet Cong were killed by ground fire and another 32 by air strikes as the Marines moved 12 miles northwest of Quang Ngai City, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, in a sweep dubbed Operation Texas. Another 190 Viet Cong may have been killed and 13 suspects were detained, he said.

One helicopter plunged 800 feet to the ground during the operation and burst into flames. The cause of the crash was not determined. Three crewmen and seven passengers were

Gus Grissom To Head Crew For Apollo Flight

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP)—One of the United States' original astronauts, Virgil I. Grissom, almost drowned in 1961 when his Mercury capsule sank after he became the second American to rocket into space.

About four years later, he took his second space ride — the first man to do so — as command pilot on the maiden mission of the two-man Gemini program.

Now, he is back again, to launch another project. The short, crewcut Air Force lieutenant colonel will be commander aboard the nation's first three-man spaceship, an Apollo craft like one designed to carry men to the moon.

Crew Named

Grissom, Air Force Lt. Col. Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Roger B. Chaffee were named Monday to take an Apollo spacecraft on a shakedown cruise of up to 14 days in earth orbit.

The flight will be the first of at least four manned Apollo flights planned before the United States attempts to shoot three men to the moon before 1970, perhaps by late 1968.

The space triplets are officially slated to take the first flight in early 1967, but if all goes well in training and spacecraft preparation for the mission, it could be launched as early as November.

Their mission might be sort of a ringing out the old, and ringing in the new in the staging a space rendezvous between the Apollo ship and the last two-man Gemini spacecraft, currently Gemini 12.

Many Purposes

Such a rendezvous, Dr. Robert Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center, said Monday "would have many purposes. It's always nice to have someone take a look at you (in space)."

Gemini would be taking an orbiting glance at Apollo, a possibility Apollo officials would like to see come about. Dr. Joseph Shea, Apollo program manager, said "a study is going on but it's too early to say (if the rendezvous would be attempted). The purpose of the mission is to exercise the spacecraft and the crew."

A crew has not been named for Gemini 12. However, while announcing the three-man team, Gilruth also released names of the prime crew for Gemini 11, a two-or-three-day mission to include a rendezvous, a link-up in space and a space walk.

Command pilot on Gemini 11 will be Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr., veteran pilot of the eight-day flight of Gemini 5, and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr., who has not taken a flight. The two served as backup crewmen on Gemini 8.

Quake Kills 79 In Uganda

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — New minor earth tremors have brought down rock and blocked the only access road out of western Uganda, where at least 79 were killed in a quake Sunday, radio reports said today.

The road leads from the earthquake area of Bwamba County around the Ruwenzori Mountains to Kampala.

"The death toll is likely to rise slightly," a Western relief official said. "Fortunately, in this remote area the population is mainly self-supporting. Disruption of public services and supplies therefore is less serious than in a more sophisticated community."

Two school buildings at the American mission at Bugambwa were damaged. Hundreds of houses collapsed. The total injured was unknown but one parish reported 77 injured.

Scientists said the tremors are likely to continue for a time. A vast fault runs through the area.

Moon Pilot Is Michigan Native

The Apollo crew also includes veteran astronauts Gus Grissom and Edward White.

Chaffee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Chaffee, is a graduate of Grand Rapids Central High School and Purdue University.

His astronaut training has taken him to Iceland and Alaska.

3 N.Y. Newspapers Merge

NEW YORK (AP) — Three New York City newspapers seek Justice Department review today of plans to merge into a single company publishing a morning, an afternoon and a Sunday newspaper.

The newspapers, under an agreement made last year, have given the Justice Department 10 days notice of the merger to see if there is any conflict with antitrust laws. No date, however, has been set for the merger.

Announcement of the consolidation was made Monday by the three newspapers, the morning Herald Tribune, the afternoon World-Telegram and Sun, and the afternoon Journal-American.

The new company will be called the World Journal Tribune Inc.

The two afternoon dailies will be combined into a single evening newspaper, the World Journal. The Herald Tribune will continue its weekday morning publication, but on Sundays it will combine with the Sunday Journal-American under the name of the World Journal and Tribune.

The consolidations will leave Manhattan with only five dailies of general circulation and three Sunday newspapers.

The new company will be jointly owned by the Hearst Corp., W. W. Scripps Co. (Scripps - Howard), and the Whitney Communications Corp. (Herald-Tribune).

The owners' statement said that each "will retain his individual editorial voice in the editorial pages of one of the three papers."

Among the factors believed to have brought about the merger were diminishing circulation, increased production costs and a change in the pattern of metropolitan newspaper competition.

The three newspapers had a total daily circulation last year of 1,230,000, compared to 1,670,000 in 1950. Sunday circulation of the Herald Tribune and Journal-American totaled 1,172,000 compared to 1,738,000 in 1950.

The three papers employ 5,700 persons.

Bomb Recovery Moves Forward

PALOMARES BEACH, Spain (AP) — Final phases of the H-bomb recovery project appeared to be under way today following improved weather.

Five U.S. Navy ships ringed the area five miles offshore where the missing U.S. bomb was pinpointed.

Reports here said two midget submarines were making dives in an effort to retrieve the bomb.

It was lost in the Jan. 17 collision of a U.S. B52 bomber and tanker plane.

Temblor Hits North China

TOKYO (AP) — Another earthquake apparently of great intensity struck North China today. Japanese correspondents in Peking said four quakes shook the capital, sending people dashing into the streets.

The Japanese Central Meteorological Agency put the epicenter at about 125 miles southwest of Peking. Thus it appeared that Singtai, a city about 200 miles southwest of Pekin, was hit again after a disastrous quake March 8 and a damaging one Sunday.

In Moscow, the Central Seismic Station said the quake was the equivalent of 8.3 on the Richter Scale, making it one of the strongest ever recorded. It reported that March 8 earthquake as 7.5 on the Richter Scale.

The Seismological Institute at Upsala, Sweden, said "it is likely that material damage is considerable."

Red China never has said how many people were killed in the quake at Singtai, but described widespread damage in 30 agricultural communes. That meant it could have affected more than 300,000 persons.

Radio Peking announced that a strong earthquake rocked the Singtai area Sunday, toppling buildings in nine people's communes.

Communication Workers Strike All Over State

DETROIT (AP)—Members of Local 4090, Communications Workers of America (AFL-CIO), left their jobs throughout the state today in a dispute involving suspension of the state vice president and four workers by the Western Electric Co.

Local secretary - treasurer James Stone said the company has accused the men of causing problems in connection with a refusal to perform supervisory work.

Stone said local vice president Ron Rutledge of Detroit was suspended for an indefinite period of time.

Others suspended for three days are Richard Binczkowski of Grand Rapids, George Gates of Traverse City, M. Van Zee of Kalamazoo and L. E. Verdon of Battle Creek, Stone said.

Local 4090 covers the state of Michigan and involves 800 members who install switchboards and other electronic equipment.

Senate To Vote $13 Billions But

Ask Tougher War Vs. Viet Cong

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is expected to give overwhelming approval today to a $13.1-billion Viet Nam war chest — after a warning that Americans may show their frustrations at the polls if the Communists aren't forced to the peace table soon.

The blunt election-year warning came Monday from Sen. Richard B. Russell, chairman of the Armed Services Committee and one of President Johnson's strongest supporters on Capitol Hill.

Declaring that "the American people will not tolerate indefinitely the kind of war we are waging there," Russell urged harder blows at the North Vietnamese, including the closing of the port of Haiphong.

Russell indicated he had expressed these views to President Johnson. The Georgia Democrat said he saw little danger of the Chinese marching into the conflict "as long as we do not land forces near the China border." In any case, he said, "we will be compelled to take a calculated risk to bring this war to a close."

Russell gave his views as the Senate opened debate on the $13.1-billion supplemental appropriation with Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., urging the United States to end the war by negotiating with the Viet Cong.

The appropriation bill was sought by President Johnson to provide U.S. forces with a bigger arsenal of men, money and firepower to carry on operations in Southeast Asia.

Senate leaders had hoped to complete action on the measure Monday but put off a vote until today after Clark urged that more time was needed for speeches.

As for the Viet Cong, Russell said he had concluded "we should push this war until the North Vietnamese would at least be willing to permit their alter egos or Charlie McCarthys, or whatever they are, to join them at the conference table and bring this war to a conclusion."

Drumming at the political situation, Russell expressed belief that "it is going to be necessary to have a change in policy in some direction in the very near future or, in my opinion, this war will assume political proportions that will absolutely force it upon any man who has to go before the electorate of this country and seek public office."

Russell said the present search-and-destroy tactics may bring the Viet Cong to their knees after 10 or 12 years.

"But the American people are going to be very unhappy about it," the Georgian added, "and someone who comes along and says, 'I will go in there and clean this thing up in six months' will, I am afraid, have some advantage over senators" who support the present policy.

Cancer Crusade Ready To Start

Hundreds of volunteers, from young to old, are involved in the 1966 Cancer Crusade which will open in Delta County on April 1, Jack Beck, Crusade general chairman, told a meeting in the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce building Monday night.

The Crusade organization is complete in every phase, he said. The Crusade goal is to raise $7,980 and hopefully to prevent some of the 40 needless deaths in Delta County.

4-H Clubs will be engaged in fund-raising projects in all of the county's 15 townships in April; and Escanaba Area Public High School's Orange & Black and the Holy Name High School Key Club will sell tickets to a benefit variety show to be held on April 23.

The Kiwanis Club's Boy Scout Troop will distribute posters to business places, and bumper stickers will be available free at all filling stations, stores and other business places to help promote the Crusade.

The volunteers—the workers who give their time and effort to make the solicitation calls—will again be the most important part of the Crusade effort, it was pointed out.

Meetings are being scheduled for all area captains beginning with the Escanaba kickoff at the House of Ludington at 1:45 p m. Friday, March 25.

Charles Anspaugh, president of the Delta County Cancer Society, at the Monday night meeting presented to Atty. Art Neiman of Escanaba the Crusader sword for his work in organizing the 1965 fund campaign.

Deadline Near On Scholarship For Bay College

Deadline for making application for the two scholarships to Bay de Noc Community College for a rural boy and girl of Delta County is Friday, April 1, announce Dick Marenger and George Bathke, co-chairmen of the Agricultural Committee of the Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce.

Applicants must be high school graduates of Delta County whose parent or parents are making their living in agriculture. Two scholarships of $100 each will be awarded, one to a boy and one to a girl for the school year beginning in the fall of 1966. The scholarships are being awarded by the Delta County Agricultural Booster Association.

Any rural youth, boy or girl, graduating previous to this year, is also eligible. The following high schools of Delta County have been notified of the scholarships and application blanks may be obtained at the principal's office or at Bay de Noc Community College: Escanaba Area, Holy Name, Gladstone, Rock, Rapid River, Bark River-Harris, Perkins, Nahma and Garden.

Candidates Say 'Yes' To League

Eight of the nine candidates for the Escanaba City Council have advised the Escanaba League of Women Voters they will be present for a voter service information meeting to be held at 8 p.m. Monday, March 28, in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Mason E. Johnson, candidate for the four-year Council term, told the League that he would be unable to be present because of a prior committment.

The public is invited to attend the League's open meeting, which is sponsoring as a method of informing the voters about the candidates and their positions on city issues.

After the League's questions are answered by the candidates, written questions from the floor will be accepted, said Mrs. Earl Owen, the League's voter service chairman.

Candidates in the April 4 election for the two four-year terms are:

Edward J. Cox, Edward A. Gosselin, Mason E. Johnson, Glenn Moreau, Mrs. Frank Neumeier, Harold J. Vanlerberghe.

For the two-year unexpired term: Arol E. Beck, Cecil B. Chase, Lyle F. Plowman.

Firemen To Fry Smelt On Apr. 1

The Bark River Volunteer Fire Department will hold its annual smelt fry at the Bark River Community Building from 5:30 to 10 p.m. Friday, April 1.

The Fire Department festivity will be the 16th of an annual series that has provided a resuscitator, a portable pump and other equipment for the department with its earning. The affair is always a gala, with as many as 600 persons turning out to eat smelt and fixings and to encourage the development of the Fire Department, which has established an impressive record of service to the township in its more than a decade and a half of activity.

The Department has 27 members, all living in Bark River or within a three mile radius of the village. Its equipment now includes an 1,800 gallon tank truck and a pumper truck. It is a major element in Bark River's Civil Defense program.

Plans for the smelt fry were made at a recent meeting of committee chairmen including Mrs. Wesley Palmgren, dining room; Frank Adams, food; Marvin Palmgren, kitchen, Harold Larson, cleaning and painting; Chief Herman Palmgren, purchasing, and Wesley Palmgren, who is general chairman.

Auto Renter Buys AMC Cars

NEW YORK (AP)—American Motors Corp. will become the principal supplier of cars for the Kinney Service Corp., the car rental firm said Monday.

The companies announced an initial purchase agreement of 3,000 new cars for delivery this month.

Steven Ross, Kinney president, said the purchase agreement represents "a major step in the company's national expansion program."

Kinney and its franchises are engaged in car rental service and the parking business in thirteen states. It recently opened outlets in Washington and Chicago.

Roy Abernethy, American Motors president, termed the agreement a significant move to expand the company's automotive sales in an increasingly important segment of the market.

Deer Advisers Idea Official

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Commission has made official the idea of allowing sportsmen and hunters to advise it on setting deer quotas.

The idea was unofficially endorsed at the March 11 commission meeting. No formal vote was taken, however.

Polled by telephone later the commissioners confirmed their approval in telegrams to the department.

"This should clear up any possible misunderstanding as to the commission's position in this matter," said Commission Chairman Robert McLaughlin of Detroit.

"All of us support the advisory committee approach as a means of broadening public interest and participation in deer management."

Details of the citizens advisory committee on deer setup, meanwhile, were announced with a provision that no such group was planned for southern Michigan.

Committees of 25 members each will be appointed in each of the eight northern Michigan conservation districts.

The commission said it was decided not to establish committees in the six southern districts because "deer management problems are different than in the north."

The whale shark is the largest of living fishes.

Cancer Crusade Ready To Start

Hundreds of volunteers, from young to old, are involved in the 1966 Cancer Crusade which will open in Delta County on April 1, Jack Beck, Crusade general chairman, told a meeting in the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce building Monday night.

The Crusade organization is complete in every phase, he said. The Crusade goal is to raise $7,980 and hopefully to prevent some of the 40 needless deaths in Delta County.

4-H Clubs will be engaged in fund-raising projects in all of the county's 15 townships in April; and Escanaba Area Public High School's Orange & Black and the Holy Name High School Key Club will sell tickets to a benefit variety show to be held on April 23.

The Kiwanis Club's Boy Scout Troop will distribute posters to business places, and bumper stickers will be available free at all filling stations, stores and other business places to help promote the Crusade.

The volunteers—the workers who give their time and effort to make the solicitation calls—will again be the most important part of the Crusade effort, it was pointed out.

Meetings are being scheduled for all area captains beginning with the Escanaba kickoff at the House of Ludington at 1:45 p m. Friday, March 25.

Charles Anspaugh, president of the Delta County Cancer Society, at the Monday night meeting presented to Atty. Art Neiman of Escanaba the Crusader sword for his work in organizing the 1965 fund campaign.

Candidates Say 'Yes' To League

Eight of the nine candidates for the Escanaba City Council have advised the Escanaba League of Women Voters they will be present for a voter service information meeting to be held at 8 p.m. Monday, March 28, in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Mason E. Johnson, candidate for the four-year Council term, told the League that he would be unable to be present because of a prior committment.

The public is invited to attend the League's open meeting, which is sponsoring as a method of informing the voters about the candidates and their positions on city issues.

After the League's questions are answered by the candidates, written questions from the floor will be accepted, said Mrs. Earl Owen, the League's voter service chairman.

Candidates in the April 4 election for the two four-year terms are:

Edward J. Cox, Edward A. Gosselin, Mason E. Johnson, Glenn Moreau, Mrs. Frank Neumeier, Harold J. Vanlerberghe.

For the two-year unexpired term: Arol E. Beck, Cecil B. Chase, Lyle F. Plowman.

Great Society Problem

The county supervisors who created UPCAP four years ago could not have foreseen it, but they created an agency that fits a current need of the federal government. It must somehow unsnarl the federal program of War on Poverty as a step to the Great Society envisioned by President Johnson.

UPCAP was created, with Michigan State University acting as midwife, to give the Upper Peninsula an agency to work for the economic development of the area. First called the U. P. Committee on Area Problems, it later decided that was negative and changed to the U. P. Committee for Area Progress.

It struggled and accomplished in volunteer efforts at U. P. self-improvement until it got a grant of $127,000 from the Area Redevelopment Administration to supply it with technical assistance. Nathan Associates got the contract and supplied the staffing. The grant was extended and UPCAP has been operating on federal money ever since. The modest amount it gets from 14 county boards of supervisors of the U. P. is the tail of what has become a pretty big dog, and it doesn't wag the dog.

The question is asked rather frequently: What can UPCAP do to justify its federal support? In other words: why shouldn't the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity deal directly with the entities getting its funds for federal programs and not through a middle man like UPCAP?

The answer is that the uplift effort embodied in the economic opportunity program is so tangled up in bureaucracy that it takes a compass man to find a way through the forest of red tape. That's UPCAP. This is exaggerated a bit for simplification, but not much: it is the essential reason for the use of UPCAP by the federal agencies involved in this effort.

Stephen K. Bailey, writing on "Co-ordinating the Great Society" in Reporter magazine for March, states it's easy — and politically popular — to overstate the administrative difficulties created by the Great Society programs of the federal government. He writes that competition between government agencies can be good, but that there are real dangers in the program and need for administrative machinery that will really make it work.

The critical shortage of the program is not shortage of money because of the war in Viet Nam, but able people to carry out the programs and effective administrative machinery. The aid to education, the War on Poverty and the Medicare programs all lack these at present.

The poverty program is being handled by a passle of agencies. Some of its projects are handled by the Office of Economic Opportunity and some aren't. The Job Corps is run by OEO, but the Neighborhood Youth Corps is administered by the Department of Labor; the Work Experience Program by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare; the Rural Family Loan Program by the Department of Agriculture; the economic opportunity loans by the Small Business Administration. And this is only a peep at the complexity.

The point we make is not that many agencies are involved — they should be, or else the agency proliferation would be even worse, with a Poverty Department of Agriculture, Poverty Department of Health Education and Welfare, Poverty Labor Department, etc. But when education programs are found not only in Health Education and Welfare, but in most of the 11 Office of Economic Opportunity programs, the need for coordination becomes evident.

Just finding the aid becomes a problem in such a clutter. Where does a municipality or a school district, a county or a health district learn what's available to help it with a public problem? Four different federal agencies handle similar grant or loan programs for waste disposal facilities in dissimilar manners.

When it's said that "possibly only the New York State Department of Education is prepared to be an equal partner with the U. S. Office of Education" what does the Michigan Department of Education do? And especially what does the Mathias Township School District do? The Michigan Department of Education, working with Congressman Clevenger and UPCAP, will assign an information officer to the Upper Peninsula to tell the school districts about educational aids in the federal programs.

Bailey says that President Johnson knows about these weaknesses of his Great Society program and that the President's role in the program is essentially one of challenge. Eventually the program must depend upon return to local responsibility for success, in this view, and it must also depend upon an effective tieup of government effort and private commerce and industry. It won't help Appalachia to spend $840 million on its roads unless trucks and cars are rolling on them.

Kennedy Halves

When was the last time you saw a half-dollar? In change, that is, not in the drawer or piggy bank where you and umpteen other Americans are stashing them away as fast as the Treasury turns them out.

Since they were first introduced in March 1964, some 400 million Kennedy halves have been produced—two for every man, woman and child in the United States. Not only have these utterly vanished but the old Ben Franklin 50-cent pieces are disappearing as well.

The half-dollar inflow to the Federal Reserve banks shrank from 254 million pieces in fiscal 1961 to 1.3 million in the last six months of 1965.

Now there are indications that quarters, especially the shiny 1964 ones, are starting to go the same way.

What began—and would have eventually ended—as a fad for JFK coins promises to turn into nationwide hoarding of all silver coins because of the introduction of the new copper-nickel quarters. The silverless dimes and halves of only 40 per cent silver that are due to appear soon will only speed up the phenomenon.

Observers say the situation is developing into a classic example of Gresham's Law—that "bad money drives out good."

In other words, when governments circulate coins with the same face value but with one made of cheap metal and the other of precious metal, people will hoard the latter.

Why? In the old days it was because of inflation or economic uncertainty. Today, some people are obviously doing it in hopes that a rise in the price of silver will make silver coins worth melting down someday. Others are just saving them because they are the last of their kind.

In either case, it's going to be a long wait for any profit.

The Pit and the Pendulum

—TOM LITTLE, NASHVILLE TENNESSEAN

The Family Lawyer

Case Lincoln Lost

On a fateful autumn day in Indiana, in the fourth year of the Civil War, Union soldiers entered the home of Lambdin P. Milligan and placed him under arrest.

The soldiers were acting on orders of President Abraham Lincoln, their commander in chief. Milligan, suspected of aiding the Confederate cause, was speedily found guilty by a military court and sentenced to be hung.

But nine days before he was to die, Milligan—invoking the ancient writ of habeas corpus—demanded his freedom. He claimed that, as a civilian, he could not lawfully be punished by a military court.

How far may military power reach in wartime? For a nation dedicated to individual liberty, the issue was a wrenching one.

Lincoln himself argued that, with war convulsing the country, he was justified in taking drastic means to crush disloyalty on the home front.

But there were weighty points too on the other side of the argument. Not only was Milligan a civilian, but he had been arrested in Indiana—where, at the time, no hostilities were under way.

Most important, Indiana's civil courts were still open for business, ready, willing, and able to hear the charges against Milligan if given the chance.

On April 3, 1866, 18 months after Milligan's arrest, the United States Supreme Court set him free. Holding that the military trial was unlawful, the Court thereby marked out historic limits beyond which martial authority must not go.

Oddly enough, this decision condemning Lincoln's action was written by his own devoted friend, Justice David Davis. Lincoln by then was already dead. Yet it is easy to imagine that if still alive, with the awful pressures of war behind him, he might have applauded the judge's words:

"The Constitution is a law for rulers and people, equally in war and peace, and covers with the shield of its protection all classes of men at all times, and under all circumstances."

A Northern editor had this comment:

"Above the might of the sword, the majesty of the law is thus raised supreme."

It is easy to imagine Lincoln himself saying amen.

Record Praises Morse

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — One of the nicer fringe benefits accruing to Washington legislators is the opportunity of inserting in the Congressional Record—Congress' official diary—anything their hearts desire.

Sometimes lawmakers abuse this privilege. Many observers feel that Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., may be overstepping the line by inserting a large number of favorable comments he has received on his opposition to the Viet Nam war.

In the 30 days from Feb. 1 to March 2, the Senate convened 17 times. On six of these days, Oregon's professional gadfly loaded a Senate page boy down with a voluminous pile of letters, cables and telegrams supporting his stand. All were inserted in the record.

The net result was 132 pages of miscellaneous tribute to Oregon's senior senator which few people outside of the government typesetters will ever bother to read.

The largest single dosage occurred Feb. 16, when Morse inserted a whopping 42 pages of praise. The smallest was 14 pages on Feb. 23.

Since each page in the Record—printed at government expense—costs $104, Morse's displays in one month cost U. S. taxpayers exactly $13,728. Projected at an annual rate, this could amount to more than $150,000.

A private film company, finishing off a documentary on the White House, thought it would be nice to have a fire going in the marble fireplace in the celebrated state dining room as closing shots were made.

Moments after a fire was started, smoke filled the room. When a window was opened, it merely fanned the flames. (Evidently the fireplace had never been used since Harry Truman had the White House renovated years ago.)

After a while, President Johnson, napping upstairs, got a whiff of smoke. He sent a valet to find out what was going on. When he was told the story, the President sent the man back downstairs with this message:

"The President understands. He just hopes the filming isn't being done by a British crew."

(In the War of 1812, British forces seized the White House and burned it out.)

In the wave of the first musical-chair rumors involving President Sekou Toure of Guinea and ex-President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, an old Africa hand was asked for his opinion of the developments.

"Well," he drawled, "it's kind of like the old Abbott and Costello routine on baseball, 'Who's on Shortstop.'"

"That means," interpreted a third party, "that he doesn't know much about baseball either."

Another wag suggested that the first major problem facing Toure and Nkrumah would be whether to call their coalition "Guinah" or "Ghanea."

The Doctor Says:

Aid Treatment Of Acne

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Q — My daughter, 21, has pimples on her chin. All the remedies she has tried have failed. Sulfur and molasses cured me when I was her age. Should she try it? Would X-ray help?

A — Acne is primarily a disease of adolescence. When you reach the ripe old age of 21, your acne cleared up spontaneously. Your taking sulfur and molasses was coincidental. Your daughter's skin should improve soon but in the meantime she might want to try some of the newer acne remedies, such as the local application of benzoyl peroxide and sulfur emulsion (Dermabase), various antibiotics (tetracycline, erythromycin, benzyl penicillin or sulfadimethoxine) or, by mouth, trypsin with chymotrypsin (Chymoral).

Many skin specialists, however, still insist that the best treatment is to wash the face twice a day with a soap that contains hexachlorophene. X-ray treatments will clear up the condition, but the effect is temporary and is recommended only as an emergency measure in preparation for getting married.

Q — I have high blood pressure and have been taking Singoserp and Aldomet. Both have controlled my blood pressure. Is it harmful to take these drugs indefinitely? What are their side effects?

A — Methyldopa (Aldomet) should not be taken by persons with liver disease nor by pregnant women. In too large a dose it may cause headache, weakness and dizziness. Syrosingopine (Singoserp), a synthetic reserpine, should not be taken by persons with peptic ulcer. Large doses may cause drowsines, headache, nausea and depression. Since high blood pressure is usually chronic, it is wise to vary the treatment every five or six months.

Q —What causes gurgling, growling and rumbling in the stomach?

A — First you have to have both liquid (normal) and gas (abnormal) in your digestive tract, then you have to have some lively goings on. You can illustrate this by filling a hot water bottle full and shaking it. No noise. Then remove half of the water, let air in and hang it on a hook. No noise. Then shake it vigorously. Gurgle, gurgle. To get rid of your rumblings, you must avoid eating well-known gas formers and you must avoid laxatives or foods that stir up intestinal activity

A—No. It is a mountain range so thickly overgrown with trees that it is called a forest rather than a mountain.

Ann Landers

Woman With Brains Wouldn't See You

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 16-year-old girl who babysits for people who live two blocks away. I love the lady and the children and I have a steady job with them every Friday and Saturday night which means they pay me whether I sit or not.

The man of the house gives me the creeps. He always walks me home (good exercise, he says) and lately he has been acting pretty fresh.

Last night he put his arm around me and said, "Baby, it's cold outside. Let's snuggle."

I'm not afraid of the guy because I am bigger than he is and if he ever got real smart I would haul off and crack him in the mouth. But I do need a couple of Ann Landers'-type sentences to let him know that I want him to act his age. — FEARLESS FRANCES

Dear Fearless: Try this: "If you don't keep your hands off me, I will ask your wife to walk me home and she'll know why." If this doesn't do it, Frances, go ahead and crack him in the mouth.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 30-year-old man, handsome enough to be frequently asked for my autograph. (People think I am Dean Martin.)

I have traveled extensively, am a sharp dresser, well read, and a good conversationalist. I play the guitar, was a part-time ski instructor and have some tennis trophies. Because I have spent so much time pursuing cultural interests and sports, I do not have much money. In fact, I owe about $3500.

I've had enough of bachelor life and want to get married. My financial problems are such that I could not possibly consider a woman unless she had a very good job or family money. The women I know who have family money are so stupid they bore me to death, or they are so homely I can't look at them. I realize I must make some sort of compromise and I'd like your counsel.

I'm not putting you on, Ann, I am dead serious, and I'd appreciate a serious answer. If you like, I will send a picture. Thank you. — R.L.P.

Dear R. L. P.: I HAVE the picture, Bub. Your situation is hopeless because it rules out everybody. You say you can't look at a homely woman and I can tell you, Buddy-Bo, that a woman with brains wouldn't look at you. Lotsa luck.

Dear Ann Landers: My boy friend is one of the sweetest, kindest people who ever drew a breath. He treats me like a queen.

My mother keeps telling me that he is such a sloppy dresser I should be ashamed to be seen with him. The reason he doesn't look 100 per cent neat is because he does his own shirts to save his mother work. (There are six children in the family.)

I don't want to hurt his feelings, but my mother insists that I tell him. Should I? — LOVE HIM REGARDLESS

Dear Love: There are loads of fellows around with nicely ironed shirts, but how many do you know who are sweet and kind and would treat you like a queen? Maybe one of these days you will be doing his laundry and then, of course, he'll look like a collar ad.

Kokanee In Lake Huron

By F. P. MAHER
Research Station
Ontario Research Station

Plans for the establishment of kokanee salmon in the Great Lakes are moving ahead smoothly, with the second cycle of plantings now well under way. During the winter of 1964-1965 three million kokanee eggs were obtained from the West Coast, half from a British Columbia stream-spawning stock, and half from shore-spawning stocks from Colorado, Montana and Washington.

Upon arrival in Ontario, the eggs were divided equally between Lake Ontario and Lake Huron. All of the eggs for Lake Ontario were held at the Fisheries Research Station at Glenora, south of Belleville, while the eggs for Lake Huron were sent to the Chatsworth, Wiarton and Sandfield Hatcheries. Approximately the same number of eggs were received again this winter, and much the same planting procedure as last year will be followed by the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests.

There were many factors to consider when planning the original plantings of kokanee. In their native habitat, these fish are never found in lakes as large as the Great Lakes and it is difficult to predict what their behavior might be in such large bodies of water as Lake Ontario and Lake Huron.

There are approximately 70 species of fish in British Columbia and about 200 here in Ontario and it is possible that some Ontario species might be harmful to kokanee. In addition, water temperatures suitable for salmon spawning might occur at a different time in the fall from that in the West and this might tend to reduce the chances of successful spawning.

Kokanee have however reproduced and grown well when planted in a variety of habitats in the West, and it is possible that in the vast areas of Lake Ontario and Lake Huron these fish will find some adequate spawning sites. The planting sites were picked so as to introduce the kokanee to a variety of sites which appeared to be suitable.

Streams and shoals were planted with eggs, fry and fingerlings raised from the stream-spawning stocks from British Columbia, while eggs and fry were planted in similar locations with the shore-spawning stocks from the Western states. By introducing these fish to the Great Lakes in a variety of sites, all of which appear to be suitable for spawning, the chances of establishing a spawning population are enhanced.

To learn as much as possible about kokanee in a new environment, planting sites were chosen close to the Fisheries Research Station at South Bay on Manitoulin Island for the Lake Huron plantings, and near the Fisheries Research Station at Glenora for the Lake Ontario plantings.

Trawling operations were carried out in South Bay during the summer and fall of 1965, during which time 26 kokanee were captured. The fish are difficult to catch since they tend to frequent open water areas of the lake, well below the surface.

The 26 fish all exhibited excellent growth, and had been feeding heavily on zooplankton These observations are encouraging, since South Bay has a large population of alewives which are also plankton feeders, and it was feared that kokanee might suffer in competition with these fish. Efforts to capture kokanee in the Georgian Bay and Lake Ontario have not been successful so far, due to the huge areas of water involved and the relatively small numbers of fish present.

The parent stocks from which we obtained our kokanee eggs all spawn at four years of age. Since these fish have a well developed "homing" instinct we are hoping to see adult kokanee returning to some of the planting sites in the fall of 1968. In is difficult to predict the size they will attain in the Great Lakes since many factors can influence their growth, but it is hoped that they will attain a length of 14 inches or more.

At Meadow Creek, British Columbia, the collecting site from which half of our eggs came, about two thirds of the kokanee run was 12 to 14 inches in length, while the remaining third ran from two to four pounds in weight. The largest specimen taken while our eggs were being collected weighed eight pounds.

All kokanee, like other Pacific salmon, die after spawning. They grow rapidly in their final year, and should reach an attractive size in the summer of 1968. If kokanee become established in numbers, they should provide both a sport and a commercial fishery, although it is likely that both sport and commercial fishermen will have to develop new techniques in order to harvest the fish. Trolling well below the surface in open water areas is the favorite means of catching kokanee out West, although they can be taken by fly fishermen when the surface waters cool.

Because of the large size of the Great Lakes, the numbers of fish stocked so far are relatively small. Efforts are being made to obtain larger numbers of eggs from Western agencies, and to investigate other means of securing more kokanee eggs for planting in the Great Lakes.

While it is far too soon to be able to say whether the kokanee introduction will be successful, the first results of the evaluation are encouraging. The few kokanee captured have grown at a faster rate than kokanee usually do in their native habitat, even in the face of formidable competition from other species. A population of kokanee salmon of an attractive size would be a boon to the economy of the Great Lakes Region.

Tax Collections High In City

Collections of icty, county and school taxes in Escanaba are very slightly below those of a year ago, it is reported by Don Guindon, city clerk-treasurer.

The city tax collections totaled 96.74 per cent of the total levy of $404,342. This compares to 96.90 per cent a year ago.

County and school taxes collected total 94.48 per cent of the total Escanaba levy of $878,955. Last year the per cent collected was 94.65.

The uncollected taxes were returned to the office of the Delta County Clerk for collection, and include:

City taxes $13,181; county taxes $12,721; school taxes $12,721; school debt taxes $6,434; voted school taxes $14,667; Intermediate School District taxes $176; Community College taxes $1,764; and delniquent special assessments in the city of $2,607.

The percentage of taxes collected in Escanaba has continued in the mid-90-per cent for a number of years. This is considered relatively high and indicates a healthy local economy.

In the economic depression years of the 1930's the percentage of delinquency was very high and tax sales and foreclosures were numerous.

Cohen, Clubbed In Prison, Is Given $110,000

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Former gambler Mickey Cohen has won a $110,000 suit against the federal government.

His contention that the government was negligent in supervising the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary inmate who clubbed Cohen with a length of pipe in 1963 was upheld Monday by a U.S. District Court judge.

Cohen, 51, is serving a 15-year term for income tax evasion. U.S. Dist. Judge Sidney O. Smith Jr. made the award.

Legal sources said it apparently was the first case of this type — involving a prisoner assault — in which the government has been found negligent and damages assessed.

The lawsuit was filed under a 1963 Supreme Court decision making it possible for a prison inmate to sue the government under the Tort Claims Act. But the controlling case itself, reversed by the tribunal, has not been finally decided.

Asked $10 Million

Cohen, who is eligible for parole this summer, had sought $10 million from the government, charging that he suffered paralysis of the left side, a skull fracture and brain damage.

The judge, who heard testimony without a jury Jan. 31 and Feb. 1, ruled that the penitentiary was negligent in its supervision of Berl Estes McDonald, the inmate who attacked Cohen the night of Aug. 14, 1963, in the prison electrical shop.

Smith said the prisoner should not have been allowed to escape.

"Having made the proper decision to place McDonald in maximum segregation, the government was bound to take the necessary steps to enforce that decision," Smith said. "In this respect it failed."

Permanent Disability

Smith said penitentiary authorities had placed McDonald in maximum security after he was involved in other assaults. McDonald, then 35, was serving two 10-year terms for forgery and assault with intent to murder. He was adjudged incapable of standing trial for attacking Cohen.

The judge said he determined the amount of the award in consideration of the permanent injury. He said that Cohen, who still is in the medical center at Springfield, Mo., has reached optimum recovery and his disability has been placed at 50 per cent minimum by specialists. Cohen will be lame and crippled for life, Smith said.

Cohen, 49 at the time of the assault, had been in the Atlanta Prison about seven months, having been transferred from Alcatraz when that prison was closed. His full name is Meyer Harris Cohen.

Authorities said Cohen and McDonald had not known each other outside the prison and the motive for the assault was unclear.

The judge allowed attorneys fees of $15,000 in addition to Cohen's award.

NORTHERN MICHIGAN University's long-range campus planning was discussed at length at a press conference held in Marquette in the weekend. Dr. Constantinos Doxiadis, right, internationally known community developer, will serve as a consultant to the University on the development of campus growth. Others participating in the conference were, from left, Dr. Austin Robinson, Cambridge (England) University; Dr. Edgar L. Harden, NMU president; Ogden Johnson, Ishpeming, chairman of NMU's Board of Control; and Walker Cisler, chairman of the board of Detroit Edison Co.

Greek Planner To Help Northern

Plan Campus For The Future

The services of Dr. Constantinos A. Doxiadis, internationally known architect, as consultant in long-range campus planning have been made available to Northern Michigan University under the auspices of Operation Action-U.P.

This was announced at a press conference Saturday afternoon on the NMU campus by Walker L. Cisler, Detroit, chairman of the board of the Detroit Edison Co. and co-chairman of Operation Action with Dr. Edgar L. Harden, NMU president.

Doxiadis, Cisler and Harden participated in the press conference, along with Dr. Austin Robinson, economist at Cambridge University, and Ogden Johnson, Ishpeming, chairman of the board of control of NMU. Edwin O. George, Detroit, senior vice president of Detroit Edison and a member of the NMU board, attended the conference.

Doxiadis, who is president of Doxiadis Associates of Athens, Greece and currently is conducting a long-range research project with Robinson for Detroit Edison, was the NMU commencement speaker last year, and became interested in the development of the NMU campus.

Operation Action is a group of private citizens who are working for the economic development of the Upper Peninsula on a voluntary basis and without public funds. The agency was formed five years ago by Cisler and Harden.

'Could Be Focal Point'

"Dr. Doxiadis will advise and consult with Dr. Harden and NMU officials on plans for development of the campus," Cisler said, "with Operation Action participating in the planning."

On his first visit to Marquette last year, Doxiadis said, "I was very much challenged by what such a planned campus could mean to the City of Marquette. This could be the focal point for culture of the entire Upper Peninsula. I am glad to be given this opportunity to work under Dr. Harden's leadership for the physical formation of the campus."

Doxiadis, whom Cisler referred to as "an architect of the future," traced the history of the development of cities and pointed to an ideal in which the center of a community is no more than a 10-minute walk from any part of the community. A university campus is an ideal place, he said, for establishment of this "traditional value," adding that it can be developed in such a manner as to attain great cohesion.

He suggested "one mall for the connection of all buildings and functions on the campus." Doxiadis said that even a university of 30,000 students can be subdivided into many smaller units so that students can identify with their own faculties and still be a part of the great university.

Expansion To Lake

(Robinson noted that something of this sort has been accomplished at Cambridge, where the institution has a college system as well as a university system and where each student is part of a special community and part of a general community, as well.)

In a question period following the announcement of Doxiadis' new role in NMU planning, Harden was asked about frequent reports that the university campus ultimately would be expanded to the Lake Superior shore.

Called Inevitable

"In any long-range project, expansion to the lake is inevitable," he replied. "In our planning we must recognize that one day we must make an orderly acquisition of property to the lake front and to the north."

Asked if he thought NMU was growing too fast, Doxiadis replied, "I don't see why the campus should grow slower than the student body." In planning campus growth, he said, the proper approach is to conceive the ideal and try to achieve this ideal with all future construction. Existing facilities should be remodeled to make them approach the ideal as nearly as feasible.

He spoke optimistically about the future of communities of the size of Marquette, as opposed to a megalapolis. "In minor population areas, we have the best chance to demonstrate what can be done with planning," he said. But he envisioned the need for setting up smaller communities within megalopolises in order to achieve the ease of living that is found in smaller population centers.

Coast Guard On Flood Alert

Coast Guardsmen from the Escanaba Light Station have been placed on standby alert to aid flood-threatened areas in North Dakota and Minnesota.

Two men from Escanaba would join three from the Marquette station, three from Grand Marais and one from Munising for flood duty, if needed.

Flood-swollen Red and Mississippi Rivers, fed by melting snows piled to record depths by the recent Great Plains blizzard, are reported threatening Fargo and Grand Forks, N. D., on the Red River and St. Cloud, north of Minneapolis-St. Paul on the Mississippi.

A Coast Guard spokesman in Escanaba said the entire Portage Entry district has been alerted for duty.

Equipment from the Escanaba light station—including two small boats, an outboard motor, life jackets, tools and other gear—was taken to a rallying point in Duluth Saturday.

Northern Pike Hearing Called Here Tonight

A public hearing on the proposed ban on commercial fishing of northern pike in Michigan's Great Lakes waters will be held at 8 p. m. today in the conference room of the State Office Building.

Fish biologists Clifford Long, Escanaba, and Henry Vondett, Marquette, will conduct the hearing.

The State Conservation Commission has tentatively approved the ban, which is designed to place emphasis on northern pike as a sports fish. Pike have not been a major part of commercial take from the Great Lakes in recent years.

Ice Breaks Up In Area Rivers

Warm weather which contributed to the early breakup of ice on the lower half of Little Bay de Noc has also caused early breakups of ice on area rivers and streams.

Ice on the Whitefish River north of Rapid River was expected to clear the mouth of the stream "at any minute" this morning, according to Bert Wickham, Garth Point resort owner.

Wickham said the river was free of ice up beyond the U. S. 2 bridge and that a small jam at the mouth was all that was holding the rest of the ice from moving into the bay.

Breakups were also reported in the Escanaba and Ford Rivers.

Mead Corp. crews have been watching ice conditions in the Escanaba River above No. 2 dam for about a week, but have experienced little trouble. Some dynamite has been used to break up jams.

Tanker Awaited

A company spokesman said the "emergency' period is over, though watches will continue because of floes coming down from the upper part of the river.

Little Bay de Noc near Escanaba remained open today, awaiting the scheduled arrival this weekend of the Amaco Wisconsin with fuel oil for Standard Oil Co. tanks at Wells.

The U. S. Coast Guard Group Command at Two Rivers, Wis., said the cutter Mesquite will begin ice breaking operations in Green Bay Friday, opening the Green Bay, Wis., harbor entrance and light station. If needed, the Mesquite will proceed into Little Bay de Noc to escort the Amaco Wisconsin, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

Remove Shanties

Lee McMillan, dock agent at the Chicago & North Western ore docks, said there is nothing definite as yet about the start of the iron ore shipping season. He said word on the first scheduled boat is expected by the end of the week.

Last year, first boat into the Escanaba harbor was the ore carrier, E. I. Weir, on April 6.

Meanwhile, conservation officers and oil terminal managers again warned area fishermen to remove their shanties from the ice. There are still several shanties spotted near Kipling and with the start of the navigation season they will be lost unless removed.

Officers also reminded fishermen they have only 20 days to remove shanties from the public fishing site at north Gladstone.

Briefly Told

All Guardsman of Co. E are reminded of the regular training assembly at 7:30 p. m. today at the Gladstone Armory. Shade 44 or green dress uniform will be worn.

Austin Stromberg, 558 Elmwood Ave., Evanston, Ill., has beening ailing and did not go to his Pompano Beach home this winter, remaining in Evanston. He has been active in reunion activities of the Class of 1909 of Escanaba High School here in recent years.

Dr. Mary Cretens, director of the Delta-Menominee Health Department, is urging persons with a family member who has had a heart attack, stroke or any other chronic disease to avail themselves of the services of Mrs. Ruth Kettunen, Michigan Heart Association consultant, while she is in Escanaba. She will be here March 24-25 and she may be contacted by calling ST 6-4111.

Timothy Crain, 54, of the Colonial Hotel, was injured when he fell down a rear stairway at the hotel at 9:47 p.m. Monday, Escanaba police reported. Police were summoned and gave first aid before the arrival of the ambulance. His condition today is reported as fairly good.

Baking Hints

Creamed eggs are good enough for a company lunch when you add drained canned artichoke hearts (water-packed) to them. Halve the artichoke hearts and heat gently with the eggs and sauce.

For an especially delicious butter frosting, add both grated lemon and orange rind. The simplest way to prepare the frosting is to cream butter with confectioners sugar and moisten with a little lemon or orange juice.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:

If you have a good, metal file that isn't doing the job it used to do, coat the file with cuticle remover, let it stand for a few minutes, rinse, and dry well.

You will find it will work like new.

A. B. T. O.
(Beauty Operator)

Dear Heloise:

I wish to make a suggestion to those who ask how to cook sausage with a minimum of fat.

I fry the sausage slowly until brown, remove it to a thick newspaper on which I have laid a paper towel (to keep from touching the printer's ink), and place another towel over it; then fold the newspaper over and press it gently with my hands.

I move it once or twice, and press again.

You'll be surprised at the amount of fat which soaks into the newspaper!

E. M. S.

I sure was. This also works great on bacon.

Heloise

Dear Heloise: What's the best way to glue the handle back on a coffee cup?

Ellen Miller

DON'T EVER, EVER glue the handle back on a coffee cup! Use the cups for soup bowls, children's cereal, or throw them in the garbage can. But never glue them, Ellen.

Here's why:

Glued handles on coffee cups sometimes come loose after repeated washings, and you have no warning when this will happen.

Many women get horribly burned each year from scalding hot coffee when they pick up that cup, and the handle drops off!

Children get burned drinking hot chocolate when they innocently take a sip.

And, it is embarrassing when a guest in your home is burned, and her clothes, your carpet, and the furniture is ruined.

An ounce of prevention is better than pain and sorrow, so NEVER glue a cup handle back on.

See why now?

Love,
Heloise

Allocate $4,985 To Bay College

The Michigan Department of Education today allocated $1.2 million to 159 school districts and colleges and universities for purchase of equipment used in vocational education programs.

Delta County's Bay de Noc Community College will receive $4,985.

Acting State Supt. of Public Instruction Alexander J. Kloster said this year's equipment allocation is about $950,000 less than it was a year ago.

Reason for the reduction, Kloster said, was because more money was approved for construction of new vocational education facilities. Construction funds allocated earlier totaled $5 million compared to $1.8 million last year.

Kloster said the Department is distributing a total of $10.6 million in state and federal vocational education funds this year compared to $7.3 million last year.

The equipment allocation—all federal funds — must be matched on a 50-50 basis by the schools.

Van Damme To Extension Post

EAST LANSING—The Michigan Agricultural Extension Advisory Council met March 15-16 at Michigan State University. The Council commended the MSU Extension Service administration on the "new directions" taken as a result of reorganization last fall.

The nine men attending spent two days in discussions with administration officials and in a tour of the research activities of the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station at East Lansing.

Attendees included Victor Soderman of Crystal Falls.

Discussions centered around ways to get farmers to take a more active part in informing others on the need of an Extension Service at a time agriculture is undergoing rapid and drastic changes. Members also expressed concern for better salaries for county staff and the competition for top agents from business and professional fields.

New members elected were Paul Van Damme, Cornell, to succeed John Trojahn, Ironwood, and Victor Friday, Coloma, to succeed Weller Taylor, McBain.

Increase Mail Service Fees

Increases in money orders, insurance, registry, certified maid and C. O. D. rates will become effective Saturday, March 26, Escanaba Postmaster James E. Pryal said today.

The cost of operating these five special services now exceeds reevnues by $60 million annually. The fee increases will narrow the cost-revenue gap by $36 million, based on business handled in fiscal year 1965.

The fee changes are put into effect under the existing administrative authority of the postmaster general.

The increases include:

Money Order Fees: Domestic and international money order fees will be increased by 5 cents.

Insurance Fees: The minimum fee bracket will be increased from $10 to $15 and the minimum fee will be 20 cents instead of 10 cents.

Registry Fees: The present 60 cents and 75 cents fees will be combined into a single fee at 75 cents for values up to $100. Registry fees for articles valued in excess of $100 will remain unchanged.

C. O. D. Fees: The present 40 cents and 50 cents fee brackets will be combined into one fee bracket at 60 cents for amounts up to $10. There will be no change in the fees covering items valued above $10.

Certified Mail: The fee will be increased 10 cents from the present 20 cents per item to 30 cents.

Losses incurred in the operation of special services are paid from funds drawn from the Federal Treasury. The fee increases will shift a substantial portion of the special service cost borne by the public to the users of these services.

School Board To Meet Tonight

The Escanaba Area Board of Education will reconvene its recessed meeting of March 8 at 7:30 p. m. today at the School Administration Building.

Supt. Luther M. Barrett said the board would consider recommendations for teacher tenure and also hoped to have a report on the proposal for Title I of the Elementary-Secondary Education Act. A committee of area citizens has been working to prepare a developmental reading proposal which would qualify for Title I funds this summer.

It is ordered that said complaint will be brought on for hearing and judgment at the April term of this Court, to be held at Escanaba in the County of Delta State of Michigan, on the 4th day of April A. D. 1966, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a judgment will be taken and entered as prayed for in said complaint. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said judgment the lands described in said complaint for which a judgment of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such judgment, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the county of Delta State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the judgment shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or, if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be re-offered, and if on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

State of Michigan

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF DELTA.

In the Matter of the Complaint of Allison Green, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Delta.

ALLISON GREEN, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the State Treasurer of the State of Michigan and makes and files this complaint under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended, and Act No. 380 of P. A. 1965, as amended.

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $1.50 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your plaintiff prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and adjudge that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final judgment in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said judgment provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount adjudged against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your plaintiff may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your plaintiff will ever pray, etc.

Dated: February 8, 1966.

ALLISON GREEN
State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

Hard To Please Detroit Pitcher

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Bill Monbouquette is hard to please.

The Detroit Tigers righthander has pitched 13 innings this spring and no one has scored a run off him. This included a seven-inning shutout stint in Detroit's 7-0 victory over Baltimore Monday.

Monbouqette gave up four hits as the Tigers won their eighth exhibition game against two losses. But he wasn't satisfied.

"I kept hanging the curve ball and getting away with it," he said. "Oh, I was lucky.

"If the wind hadn't been blowing in, Frank Robinson would have had one out of the park on me. I've got to get the ball down. I can't get away with it much longer."

Two hits off Monbouquette were scratch singles by Luis Aparicio.

Meanwhile, the Tigers wasted no time on Orioles starter Wally Bunker, pouding him for three runs in the first inning.

Dick McAuliffe and Jerry Lumpe slammed back-to-back doubles.

After Bunker walked Norm Cash and Al Kaline, Jim Northrup drove in two more runs with a single.

In the second, Baltimore centerfielder Paul Blair lost Northrup's long fly in the sun for a triple, and Kaline scored from second on the play.

The Tigers scored another run in the seventh and two more in the ninth. Orlando Pena finished up on the mound for Detroit, giving up another hit.

McAuliffe had four hits for Detroit. Cash, Northrup and Bill Freehan got two each.

The Tigers, who have had only five winning Grapefruit League seasons in the last 16 years, are only three victories short of last year's training camp output.

Denny McLain gets the call today when the Tigers take on the New York Yankees at Ft. Lauderdale. Jim Bouton is slated to pitch for the Yanks.

Baseball Will Claim Move Was Necessary

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Baseball's defense against antitrust charges brought by the State of Wisconsin appears to be based on three salient points of contention.

The National League and its members claim that:

1. The move of the Braves to Atlanta was necessary and fully justified.

2. Expansion at this time is unfeasible.

3. There was no conspiracy or agreement to abandon Milwaukee as a big league city.

Testimony to support these claims will be offered mainly in the form of depositions taken before the trial from National League officials, club owners and officials of the Braves. The testimony will be offered in absentia. Defense attorneys say the executives fear further law suits if they visit Milwaukee in connection with the trial.

The pattern of the defense became apparently Monday — the 17th day of the trial before Circuit Judge Elmer Roller. Depositions previously taken from National League President Warren Giles, Los Angeles Dodgers' President Walter F. O'Malley and New York Mets' Board Chairman W. Donald Grant were read into the record via the question-and-answer method.

O'Malley's testimony, covering two days of questioning, was scarcely half completed when court adjourned Monday. At least half a dozen other depositions reportedly were still to come.

Giles and O'Malley cited much the same reasons for their approval of the Braves' transfer to Atlanta. They mentioned gradually decreasing Milwaukee attendance, the advent of the Minnesota Twins into big league ball with its consequent shrinking of the Braves' area of fan interest and the radio-TV market, trouble over the stadium lease and the alleged deterioration of Braves' relations with local politicians and the press.

The witnesses stated emphatically that there was no agreement to boycott Milwaukee as a big league city as the state contends.

Clay's Ex-Aide Joins Chuvalo

TORONTO (AP) — Canada's George Chuvalo is surrounding himself with a prominent supporting cast as he prepares for his heavyweight title bout with champion Cassius Clay.

Drew (Bundini) Brown, a former Clay aide, joined the Chuvalo camp Monday and will work with the challenger up to the March 29 date at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Other Chuvalo advisers include manager Irving Ungerman, former champion Joe Louis, trainer Ted McWhorter, Izzy Kline of Chicago, who worked in Ernie Terrell's corner when Terrell beat Chuvalo last November, and veteran cut-man Whitey Bimstein of New York.

Brown, who was in Clay's corner in several title fights, broke with the champion last year over Clay's association with the Black Muslim sect.

"I know you can't change George's style a few days before the fight," Ungerman said. "But Brown may spot something. One thing is sure; he knows Clay."

In New York, meanwhile, a partial list of outlets in 22 U.S. cities which will televise the fight has been released by Main Bout, Inc., the group handling the closed-circuit telecast.

Mike Malitz, executive vice president of Main Bout, said the TV sites have a potential seating capacity of 125,000. He said an announcement on Canadian outlets would be made later.

Maloney Signs Pact For $46,000 Salary

By The Associated Press

It was the first day of spring so Jim Maloney ended the winter of his discontent, and Whitey Ford, Bill Monbouquette and Dean Chance served notice that it could be a long, hot summer for American League hitters.

Maloney had been spending spring training at Fresno, Calif., which was fine except that the Cincinnati Reds train in Tampa, Fla. He argued that his 20-9 record and two no-hitters last seaeon were worth a $50,000 contract in 1966.

Cincinnati's assistant general manager, Phil Seghi, who had been saying $40,000 yes, $50,000 no, flew to Fresno Monday after weeks of telephone bargaining. He talked for about three hours and finally emerged with Maloney's signature on a $46,000 pact.

While Seghi and Maloney were negotiating, Ford, Monbouquette and Chance were pitching and doing quite a job of it.

Ford, the 37-year-old dean of the New York Yankees' pitching corps, worked six innings and allowed just two hits as New York blanked the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-0.

Monbouquette, who was traded to Detroit after eight seasons with Boston, worked seven shutout innings as the Tigers rocked Baltimore 7-0.

Chance, hoping to bounce back after a so-so 15-10 record last season, hurled three-hit ball for six innings in California's 1-0 victory over Cleveland.

Elsewhere Monday, Minnesota ripped Kansas City 10-1, the Chicago White Sox whacked Boston 10-4, St. Louis downed Pittsburgh 6-3, Cincinnati shaded Houston 5-4, the Chicago Cubs defeated San Francisco 4-2 and the New York Mets ripped Atlanta 7-2. Cincinnati's B squad dropped a 2-1 decision in 11 innings at Mexico City.

Ford allowed the only Dodgers hits — singles by Lou Johnson in the second and Jeff Torborg in the fifth. The veteran left-hander now has a string of 10 consecutive scoreless innings.

Pete Ramos and rookie Dooley Womack worked the last three innings and Lou Clinton homered for the Yankees. Maury Wills, who signed his contract five days ago, made his first start at shortstop for the Dodgers. He was hitless in three at bats and walked once.

Weaver Seeking Second Straight

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — In a golf crowd, Bert Weaver blends in so well he often goes unnoticed outside of his home club at Broadwater Beach, Miss.

He's neat but not flashy; talks in a straightforward but not loquacious manner; stands 5-foot-11; weighs 185; sun-tanned; looks like he belongs on a golf course.

He was certainly inconspicuous here a year ago on the eve of the initial Greater Jacksonville Open.

Newsmen interviewed Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Jack Nicklaus, Tony Lema, Ken Venturi and hometown favorite Dan Sikes.

No one bothered to ask Weaver's plans at the time, but he was thinking of getting off the pro tour.

Things are different today.

Newsmen clustered around Weaver Monday afternoon at Selva Marina Country Club.

He stood relaxed, just off the practice green and said, of course, he would like to win the Greater Jacksonville Open for the second straight year.

Someone pointed out a flag with Weaver's name on it, marking his victory last year. He hadn't noticed.

That first PGA tournament win started him toward his biggest pay season — $33,799 in official money for 1965 — 27th best among the traveling pros.

Bob Gale Selected To All-State Team

By BERNIE KENNEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Upper Peninsula scoring champion Bob Gale of Trout Creek and Jim Sarno and Maurice Armstrong of Covert head the Michigan Class D high school All-State basketball team announced by The Associated Press today.

Sarno, a repeater from last year's team, and Don Reid of Flint St. Mary were the only unanimous choices to the star-studded, 10-man squad.

Others named were Mike Caswell of North Adams, Ken Kitchenmaster of Dryden, Bob Wruble of Harbor Beach OLLH, Steve Schaffer of Portland St. Patrick, Denny Bielas of Pellston and Greg Rzycki of Ecorse St. Francis.

Gale became the fourth player in U.P. history to score 600 or more points during the regular season when he tallied 611 — for a 33.9 average — to spearhead second-ranked Trout Creek to an 18-0 regular season mark.

U.P. MENTIONS

Named to the honorable mention list from the Upper Peninsula were Phil Hartman of Cooks, David Smith of Powers-Spalding, Dave Vertanen of Chassell, Chuck Bennin of Pickford, Kim Peterson of Trenary, Darrel LaVigne of Garden and Ron Bailey, DeTour.

Sarno, the tallest man on the squad at 6-foot-8, and Armstrong were the key players for a top-rated Covert team which went unbeaten and captured its second straight Class D state crown.

Sarno averaged more than 18 points a game and Armstrong almost 15 through the regular season. All five Covert starters averaged more than 11 points.

Reid, three times an all-league selection, is the most prolific scorer in Flint history. Scoring over 2,000 points in his career, he finished the season averaging better than 31 points per game.

Caswell was an outstanding forward for the fourth-rated North Adams team which went unbeaten until falling to Covert in the regional final. He paced a well-balanced attack with 320 points and averaged 11 rebounds a game.

Kitchenmaster, the "shorty" of the team at 5-10, was rated one of the outstanding ball handlers and outside shooters in this class.

Wruble scored 559 points in 16 games during the regular season to pace the Blue Water area in scoring. He also averaged 22 rebounds a game this year.

Schaffer averaged 24 points and 13 rebounds a game and is one of the better defensive players around.

MSU Ball Club Blanks Bucks

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Ohio State seeks revenge over Michigan State today after the Spartans shut out the Buckeyes 3-0 in a baseball game Monday.

John Frye's leadoff home run in the seventh inning sparked two more runs by MSU in that frame.

The round-tripper by Frye, centerfielder, was followed by two Ohio State errors and by singles from Bill Steckley, Steve Polisar and Jerry Walker.

The New York Yankees hit five grand slam home runs in 1965 to lead the American League in that category.

Hanna Expands Production

Groveland Mine Tops Plan With Pellet Output

Record production of iron ore and nickel by Hanna Mining Co. in 1965 resulted in record earnings of $16,459,895, or $3.84 per share. This is 17 per cent above 1964 earnings of $14,057,217, or $3.29 per share.

In the company's annual report, Chairman Gilbert W. Humphrey and President Walter A. Marting reported that working capital at year-end totaled $51 million, virtually the same as that of the year before despite expenditures of more than $19 million for plant and equipment, working assets in associated companies, and for National Steel Corp. stock.

Dividend income totaled $8,959,592, up from $7,756,499 in 1964, and included $4,179,867 from Iron Ore Co. of Canada, the fourth consecutive annual dividend of that size.

"The opportunities of the future—and the challenges—are great," said Humphrey and Marting "the iron ore industry is engaged in an immense expansion of its capacity to produce high grade iron ore pellets, the raw material most sought-after by the steel industry. Production in North America has grown from a few thousand tons in 1954 to more than 40 million tons in 1965, with more to come.

Expand Facilities

"Hanna Mining is deeply involved in the expansion of pellet facilities. Of the 27 million tons of ore produced by Hanna-operated properties in 1965, 7.5 million tons were iron ore pellets produced for ourselves and for the account of others."

Within two years, they said, with the completion of three new plants in the United States and the expansion of the Carol plant in Canada, Hanna Mining will operate planuts capable of producing nearly 17.5 million tons of pellets a year, of which 5.4 million tons will be for its own account.

Company production of iron ore in the United States in 1965 was an all-time record and resulted from a 10 per cent increase in the production of iron ore pellets from the Groveland plant in Upper Michigan, combined with increased tonnages of ore from the Douglas and Spring Valley properties in Minnesota.

Groveland produced 1,615,000 ton sof pellets, 140,000 more tons than in 1964, its first full year of expanded operation and well above its designed capacity

Missouri Plant

In Canada, plans were recently announced to expand to 10 million tons the annual capacity of the Carol Pellet Co., operated by Iron Ore Co., of Canada, for which Hanna Mining has management responsibility. This will be completed by late in 1967, at which point Carol will be one of the largest iron ore pellet plants in the world with 16 million tons capacity.

First of the three new U. S. pellet plants scheduled to go on-stream is the Butler taconite project, a 2-million-ton-per-year facility near Cooley, Minn. on the Mesabi Range. It is scheduled for operation early in 1967. Hanna Mining has a 37½ per cent interest in the project, the balance being owned by Inland Steel Co. and Wheeling Steel Corp.

The second pellet facility, to begin operating in the spring of 1967, is the National Steel Pellet Plant, owned by National Steel Corp. and Hanna Mining, the latter's participation being 15 per cent. This 2.4-million-ton-per-year plant, near Keewatin on the Mesabi Range, will produce iron ore pellets by a new system developed by a research project conducted by National Steel, Hanna Mining, and the Surface Combustion Division of Midland-Ross Corp.

In Missouri, work proceeded on the development of an underground iron ore mine and concentrating-pelletizing plant, owned jointly by Granite City Steel Co. and Hanna Mining. Located near Pilot Knob, 90 miles south of St. Louis, the plant will produce 750,000 tons of pellets annually, beginning in 1968.

Sickler Pleads Guilty In Death By Beating Case

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Billy Gene Sickler, 36, of Niles, pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of manslaughter in the beating death last July 4 weekend of Niles truck driver Eugene Light 40.

Circuit Judge David Anderson set bond at $5,000, ordered Sickler jailed when it was not immediately posted and set a tentative date of April 7 for sentencing.

The plea called off the scheduled start of a jury trial of Sickler on a charge of first degree murder. It also disclosed an appeal filed by the victim's estranged wife, Mrs. Clara Light, 29, for a jury trial and a lesser sentence.

Cass County Prosecutor Jerry O'Connor agreed to Sickler's plea on the lesser charge after Mrs. Light indicated she would invoke the fifth Amendment in light of the disparity of sentences. Sickler, accused as the slayer, now faces a maximum term of 15 years in prison.

Farmers Plan To Cut Acreage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reports farmers intend to plant 305 million acres to all crops this year compared with 307 million last year.

The prospective acreage compares with the record low of 301 million in 1961 but far below a high of 363 million in 1951.

The indicated plantings of important Michigan crops and the percentage such plantings would be of last year's acreages, respectively, included:

Corn for all purposes—1,984,000 acres to be planted or 98 per cent of last year; oats — 634,000 or 112; soybeans for all purposes — 485,000 or 103; dry beans — 932,000 or 95; sugar beets — 80,000 or 101; and potatoes (late summer and fall) — 53,000 or 100.

Congressman To Seek Probe Of Flying Objects

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A Michigas Congressman planned today to ask the Defense Department to investigate reports of unidentified flying objects sighted near Ann Arbor.

U.S. Rep. Weston Vivan, D-Mich., left for Washington, D.C., Monday after conferring with Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey of Washtenaw County. Harvey said Weston also planned to talk with the U.S. Air Force.

Three times within a week, residents of the nearby community of Dexter have reported sighting objects flying in the night sky.

"I didn't believe those reports," said Harvey. "But with so many trained police personnel and reliable citizens having seen them, I must believe something is in the Washtenaw County skies."

Harvey said he failed in efforts to reach the Defense Department personally.

The latest sightings were made Sunday night by more than a score of persons, including police officers.

With the aid of geiger counters, officers searched the Dexter area yesterday but said they found nothing.

Dexter police Patrolman Robert Huniwell said the object he saw had red and green flashing lights and at one time zipped down to hover "within 10 feet" of a police patrol car. He added that when the object rose again, it was joined by a similar object.

A composite description, made by police from reports of witnesses, put the object as triangular in shape, with a V-shaped antenna protruding from its undercarriage.

Officials at Selfridge Air Force Base near Detroit said there was no military activity in the Dexter area during the latest sightings. There are two large airports, Willow Run and Metropolitan, near the Annn Arbor area.

Selfridge officials said reports about the sightings had been passed on to higher commands for study.

BILL: "I suppose you're getting all ready for that early Trout Season opener, hey Jim?"
JIM: "Yes, Bill. As a matter of fact I am. I'm having my problems. tho. I was going through my fishing stuff over the weekend and I saw that my spinning reel and rod are all busted up. Right now I can't afford to buy a new one. You wouldn't know where I might pick up some used fishing gear, do you?"
BILL: "Well, no . . . at least not right off hand. I know where you most likely would get something, tho."
JIM: "Oh? Where:"
BILL: "You could try using the Escanaba Daily Press Family Want Ads. They do have a column entitled 'Wanted To Buy' that should do the trick for you. All you have to do is dial 786-2021 and ask for Miss Ad Taker. She'll even help word the ad for you."
JIM: "Yeah, I never thought of that. I think I'll call right now! Thanks a million, Bill."
